THAT the speculation relative to the intro duction of railways into China is still active in Europe, as well as in the United States, evidenced by the Renter's telegram which arrived yesterday. According to that authority, the representatives of a powerful German Syndicate are about to start for China with an offer to the Chinese Government to contract a long of £35,000,000 sterling for the construction of Railways and of fuller particulars and more definite in express an opinion on the wisdom or otherwise of the mission of the German financiers. be correct—to offer the Chinese Government a very large amount of money, and the must feel rather hopeful of success, or they would scarcely undertake the journey. must be remembered, however, that the Peking Government know where to get plenty of money at 6 per cent. The readiness with which their last loans, negotiated in London, were taken up proved very conclusively that further loans at that rate could be floated. We do not know that a loan for £35,000,000 could be negotiated all at once in London; it would depend on the improbable that the Chinese Government will require so large a sum in one lump. I horrowers,-they are quite new to the borly small amounts. Moreover, the Chinese Government have not yet decided when or where to construct railways, and may defer their introduction for some time yet. The need for them has been demonstrated clearly enough by recent events, and has been admitted by the highest officials in the empire the way, and it is very problematical whether that body will be won over even by the enticing proposal of the German Syndicate. Indeed it is more likely that the offer of the thirty-five millions will tend to strengthen suspicions of the motives of the lenders. It Chinese Government in this matter, and it is to be regretted that adventurous financiers in Europe and America should show such frantic eagerness to offer money or press material upon the distrustful Mandarins at the Vicercy of Chihli will know where to obtain the means when he can win the assent of the Government to the introduction of the iron road. But China is not in a hurry, and what is more, she will not be pushed in this matter. There is considerable danger, we fancy, of enterprising gentlemen from Europe or elsewhere coming out to China on suc errands having to return sadder and wiser from experience. Of course it is possible that if the German Syndicate are able to offer the money at less than 6 per cent, they may tempt the Peking Government to bor-

The Navy won the toss, and sent Christian and Comber to the wickets, who at once commenced to score freely. Several chances were dropped, and it was not until Grimble was out on to bowl that a parting was effected. Christian being bowled by him for 16. (1 for 46). Robinson and De Robeck soon after fell to the same bowler (3 for 57), and Bush then made his first appearance on the ground, and commenced at oncetoplay in good form. At 70 Comber was caught by Graham, for a well played 43, but. Bush con-on the board, when he succumbed to a catch at the wicket for 35 (including one seven to leg). Dawson carried his bat for 17, and Plumbe being absent the innings closed for 132. Grimble bowled well throughout and secured 6 wickets for 36 runs...

For the Club, Grimble made a good beginning and put together 22 in his usual free style, before being well thrown out by Dawson (3 for 32); but wickets fell fast to the insidious left-hander 6 for 60), till Darby came in, when a change came over the play, and runs began to appear much quicker on the score. After putting together 26 in fine form, Darby had also to succumb to Dawson (8 for 106) and then Barff bogau to hit fast and furiously, a fine drive into the North Barracks for 6, off Dawson, being vory conspicuous.

Christian then went on to bowl for the first time, and in a couple of overs the innings was finished. Barff falling at 196, for a hard hit 37, and Shepherd being caught in the slips for 4 (10 for 140), eight runs in advance on the first

In the second innings of the Navy, the Club bowlers seemed tired, and runs and extras orine fast. Robinson was well caught on the leg side by the wicket keeper, but he was adjudged "not out by the umpire, and this let-off enabled him to put together 24 before he was run out. (3 for 59). Christian and Comber again played well for 17 each, and De Robeck hit up 29 in no time (including a seven and two singles), before he was well caught by Wood, off a twisting akyer. At the close of the first day 6 wickets had fallen for 113, and to this Watts added a hard hit 28 and Spearman a careful dozen, before the innings closed for 168, leaving the Club 159 to make to win, which they were expected to put together pretty easily, in the absence of Dawson through lluess. This should be acted on the first time cause of complaint occurs; it is a mistake to let such matters pass for fear of giving trouble, a course which generally gives more trouble in the end.
